Bill and Joe and Al and I started at Bi-County at the same time. I appreciated his experience, knowledge and help. He introduced me to new ideas and straightened me out when I said something that didn't make sense to him - always in his soft, gentle but determined way. I'm glad he was part of my life. I met Bill through our church about 25 years ago. I have never forgotten the way he would listen to me and offer suggestions of a new way of looking at something. It made a lasting impression in my teen years to have an adult take me seriously and I never forgot that. He was a fine man and I will be forever grateful that I had the chance to know him.
